EXPERIENCE

Mary was the Director of the Student Support Centre at CQUniversity for more than a decade and championed several projects that increased student success. Mary has particular strengths in harnessing interrelated systems, networks and communities to achieve organisational outcomes that maximise staff talent and resources.

Mary holds a Masters in Social Work and is an accredited member of the Australian Association of Social Workers. Her career includes many years as a student and staff counsellor, senior supervisor of student interns and provider of professional supervision for counsellors working in the education and health sectors. Her skills include project management and research, coordinating national research teams addressing issues about students from low socio-economic backgrounds.

Mary's coaching skills together with her background managing and mentoring diverse disciplinary teams helps her clients look at issues from new and different perspectives. Mary's broad experience and insight into leadership inspires deep learning with her clients and empowers them to focus action on the key areas to achieve work success.
